Summary

What a wonderful tour! Its success is owed to all the people involved in making it so, whether it be the naturalists in the parks, the staff of the hotels, or the clients for their tireless good humour, fortitude, wit and tremendous respect for India and its spectacular wildlife – it made the holiday a delight to lead and a pleasure for everyone. Special thanks go to the Pench Tigers for showing themselves so well to every one of us - though the Kanha Tigers acted shy this time...

Day 0

Saturday 21st February

Travel from the UK

Day 1

Sunday 22nd February

Cloudy day, moderately cool weather

Most of the group arrived by Jet Airways flight from Mumbai, while Richard and Tracey arrived by IC flight from Delhi at almost the same time as Janice was arriving from Tadoba to Pench. Tour leader Bunty and Hemanshu met the group at Nagpur International airport. The first birds to be seen were a pair of Rock Pigeons (of feral origin) that found the top of a drive way of the airport to be a suitable place for nesting, Red-throated Flycatcher and Brown Rock Chat were seen outside the airport.

It took us two hours to reach Pench and we checked in to the comfortable rooms of the hotel for some rest after a long flight. Some of the curious ones did not take much time to reassemble back in the lawns of the hotel. The staff started showing guests the resident Olivaceous Keel-backed Snake (Atractium schistosum) which was quite cosy in one of the hotel ponds, and the garden was full of butterflies and dragonflies and there were Red-wattled Lapwings, Red-vented Bulbuls and Brown Rock Chats around the hotel.

After lunch we did an afternoon game drive in three jeeps, the highlight of the drive was our first Tiger sighting of a female followed by a young male, probably a mating couple. Other mammals seen with ease were Sambar, Chital, and Common Langur.

Day 2

Monday 23rd February

Warm, with traces of clouds

If yesterday had been the starter, today was to be the main course as we headed into Pench NP. Once through the gate, we entered a different world, one where the sound of the honking horn became a distant memory. This year a female Tiger with four cubs had taken up residence near route number seven and they were being seen regularly. After following various alarm calls from the Chital Deer, we managed to glimpse a cub as it walked into the distance, and guided by the alarms of the Peacocks we opted to sit and wait by a likely looking section of the track, and were rewarded again when the cubs came out again from their hideout walking towards the track and disappearing again into thick lantana growth. Later on the morning drive everybody managed to do the elephant ride to see the Tigress with her one male cub that followed her. The afternoon game was followed by good birding at the dammed Pench River on the southern boundary of the reserve.

Day 3

Tuesday 24th February

Bright sunny morning, warm afternoon and cloudy evening

We rose before dawn for tea, coffee and biscuits and after taking our early morning drive, we then traversed the scenic Vindhya Hills as we transferred by road to Kanha. We reached Kanha in about five and a half hours, and in between we stopped for lunch and carried on for the rest of the journey, looking forward to mingling again with the different habitat of the moist deciduous Sal and Bamboo dominated forest of Kanha. The highlight of the drive was the sighting of a Dhole by the three front cars. On arrival we checked in at Kanha Jungle Lodge.

Day 4

Wednesday 25th February

Cool morning, windy, warm, bright and sunny later

Today set the tone for our next three full days at Kanha. We took both the drives into the park, after having our tea, coffee and biscuits before dawn we started for the early morning drive at 6 am to be the first going into the park. We were not successful with Tigers today but other mammals seen were Barasingha, Jackal, Sambar, Chital and Wild Boar.

Day 5

Thursday 26th February

Dry and bright, cool, cloudy later

After having our tea, coffee and biscuits before dawn we started for the early morning drive at 6 am to be in first. While driving at a brisk pace we reached a place where we saw herd of Gaur and a big bull Gaur in its full glory, which was snorting violently and taking its anger out on a tree by knocking it down immediately. The other two jeeps headed on but our jeep and the other jeep with Hemanshu waited...there could be two reasons for this kind of behaviour, first it looked like there is another bull in the area to which this one was showing off, or there was a Tiger around and the bull was trying to protect its herd...soon the latter was evident as a Tigress came out and crossed the track with a large wound on her belly caused by the bull, and then she disappeared into the woods. The whole experience was extraordinary. Later, Barry, Richard and Tracey saw a male Tiger near Chimta Camp on the afternoon game drive.

Day 6

Friday 27th February

Warm, bright and sunny

Since it was Saturday the park was crowded, and when we got the information that there had been a tiger sighting in the area we found at least thirty jeeps lined up at one place from where the tigress with two cubs had crossed the tracks earlier. We waited for a while there, but then headed towards the centre point for breakfast, which was served in the park at the canteen. Our afternoon drive was pleasant since we planned to take the drive to this highest point in the park (Bhamni Dadar) for the sunset, and the views from the plateau were stunning. The best part was when at least two Short-eared Owls were seen hunting in the grassland there. After the sun went down we headed back to the lodge. Another highlight was a Dhole sighted by one jeep on the morning drive.

Day 7

Saturday 28th February

Pleasant morning, warm afternoon, cool at night

Our last drive into Kanha this morning allowed everyone to say goodbye to the beautiful landscapes of the park and their delightful inhabitants. There had been a sighting of a galloping male Tiger chased by mahouts that crossed the tracks in front of their jeep, by once again the luckiest people in the group, non other than Barry, Richard and Tracey. The rest of the day was spent getting everybody back to Nagpur. The drive took about six hours, and in between we stopped for lunch. Some good birds were seen on the way especially Pallid Harrier, Short-toed Eagle, Sparrow Hawk and two Painted Sandgrouses. We stayed overnight at Tuli International Hotel.

Day 8

Sunday 1st March

Pleasant morning

Breakfast was served at the hotel before checking out to drop everybody at the Nagpur Airport to catch the flight to Mumbai and the onward flights home...
