Day 1

Tuesday 28th June

Heathrow to Ljubljana & transfer to Lake Bohinj

Fourteen tour participants and Simon were at Heathrow Airport for the British Airways flight to Ljubljana. Upon our arrival and once through passport control and having collected our luggage, we made our way to the arrivals hall where we met up with David who had been in the country a few days already. With the luggage loaded into our minibuses, we headed to the motorway, stopping for refreshments at the services. Turning off the motorway at Lesce and passing through the very busy resort of Bled, we enjoyed spectacular views of the lake and Bled Castle some 130 metres above the lake on the northern shore. We soon arrived in Ribcev Laz, situated at the eastern end of the Lake Bohinj, and the Alpinum Hotel Jezero, where we were based for the duration of the tour. By the time we had settled into our rooms, a thunderstorm and heavy downpour passed over, and it looked like the afternoon would be a washout.

Fortunately by late afternoon the rain had abated, and those keen to get into the flora braved the dripping woodland for a first look at the plants in our immediate environs. Even in so short a sojourn in fading light we found many species. Along the roadside was Cabbage Thistle Cirsium oleraceum, Upright Clematis (Ground Virgin's-bower) Clematis recta, Wood Scabious Knautia dipsacifolia and numerous Nine-spotted Moths Amata phegea clinging to the damp vegetation. In the woodland we noted many spikes of Bird's-nest Orchid Neottia nidus-avis, unfortunately all past flowering, and Broad-leaved Helleborine Epipactis helleborine still to flower. In the grassy areas Cambridge Milk Parsley Selinum carvifolium was the most frequent Umbellifer, Meadow Clary Salvia pratensis was abundant and Keeled Garlic Allium carinatum added a splash of pink. Branched St. Bernard's Lily Anthericum ramosum were all closed up in the low light but the Yellow Oxeye daisy Buphthalmum salicifolium was very frequent and a couple of patches of the tiny Tunicflower Petrorhagia saxifraga and the parasitic Slender Broomrape Orobanche gracilis were found.

Day 2

Wednesday 29th June

Around Lake Bohinj from Ribcev Laz to Ukanc

After our 7.30am breakfast, we met up in the lobby and were heading across the bridge for our first full day before 9am. With so many new things to see we started off rather slowly. Along the lake shore we came across Swallow-wort Vincetoxicum hirundinaria, Shining Meadow-rue Thalictrum lucidum, Blue-leaved Rose Rosa glauca and Tasteless Stonecrop Sedum sexangulare. Once into the woodland along the north side of Lake Bohinj we saw the large umbellifers Broad-leaved Sermountain Laserpitium latifolium and Mountain Laser L. siler, fruiting shrubs of Fly Honeysuckle Lonicera xylosteum, and a splendid example of European Hop-hornbeam Ostrya carpinifolia. As the morning went on so the clouds from yesterdays storm cleared and warm sunshine appeared, bringing out the butterflies. A Blue-spot Hairstreak Satyrrium spini allowed views for those where were quick, a confiding Woodland Brown Lopinga achine posed for photos and sunny patches of Alpine Thistle Carduus defloratus attracted many Chalk-hill Blue Polyommatus coridon and Silver-washed Fritillary Argynnis paphia, as well as the moths Narrow-bordered Five-spot Burnet Zygaena loniceræ, Southerly Burnet Zygaena transalpina and the longhorn beetle Red-brown Longhorn Beetle Stictoleptura rubra. A really nice find was an almost adult Eastern Green Lizard Lacerta viridis basking on top of a cut stump.

As we approached the western end of the lake clouds started to gather and the insects became scarce. Still, plenty of flowers including both Dark-red Helleborine Epipactis atrorubens and Broad-leaved Helleborine Epipactis helleborine were in flower here. Sticky Clary Salvia glutinosa was common but only one or two patches were flowering, and less conspicuous were Blue Bugle Ajuga genevensis and Mountain Germander Teucrium montanum.

At Ukanc we came across stands of the huge yellow daisy Telekia speciosa, and the only example of Wood Ragwort Senecio ovatus in flower of the tour; then the rain started and we took shelter. Fortunately the rain abated in time for a picnic to be set out near the boat jetty and an excellent lunch was consumed.

After lunch with the rain clouds fully dispersed, most people opted to return to Ribcev Laz on the boat that plies back and forth at regular intervals.

Day 3

Thursday 30th June

Vogel Ski Centre

Today we planned to get to higher altitude at the Vogel Ski centre, but as the day dawned very foggy it looked like the mountains would not be pleasant. However, by the time we had finished breakfast and gathered outside the hotel, the fog and cloud had lifted and the summits of the surrounding mountains were bathed in sunshine.

We all arrived at the cable car station in time for the 9am run, and soon we were off up the mountain having splendid views of Lake Bohinj all the way east to Ribcev Laz. More than 900 metres later we stepped out into the significantly cooler mountain air. We did not have to walk far to find new plants, notably Scheuchzer's Bellflower Campanula scheuchzeri, Adenostyles Adenostyles alliariae, Dark Rampion Phyteuma ovatum, Yellow Betony Betonica alopecuroides, Nettle-leaved Speedwell Veronica urticifolia, Green False-helleborine Veratrum lobelianum and Large White Buttercup Ranunculus platanifolius. From here we walked down to the beginning of the chair lift which took us all up a further 200 metres to about 1700m. From here we embarked on a circular walk reaching about 1730m at its highest point.

Almost immediately we were into a wonderful rock-garden of flowers, in a small area we identified Hairy Alpenrose Rhododendron hirsutum, Blue Flax Linum alpinum subsp. laeve, Alpine Bastard Toadflax Thesium alpinum, Bavarian Masterwort Astrantia bavarica, Silvery Milfoil Achillea clavennae and the beautiful Woolly Hawkweed Hieracium villosum which grows abundantly up here. A short way further on and we came across the stunning Clusius' Gentian Gentiana clusii, lots of Whorled Lousewort Pedicularis verticillata, Yellow Paederota Paederota lutea, Tomentose Colt's-foot Homogyne discolor and Alpine Clematis Clematis alpina, all without venturing more than a few yards from the path.

We took a small path into better habitat and soon came across a couple of glorious Carnic Lily Lilium carniolicum amongst the Mountain Pine Pinus mugo beside the path. Also Fairy's-Thimble Campanula cochlearifolia, Pink Hogweed Heracleum austriacum subsp. siifolium, Phyteuma sieberi, Alpine Thrift Armeria alpina, Julian Lousewort Pedicularis julica and Flesh-pink Lousewort Pedicularis rostratospicata. As the path levelled out a Blind Ringlet Erebia pharte, settled just long enough to allow identification and a bit further up we came across both Frog Orchid Dactylorhiza viridis and Dark Vanilla Orchid Gymnadenia rbellicani.

From here we started heading back down hill, noting many plants of Bluish Saxifrage Saxifraga caesia in full flower in the bare areas of the ski slope. After lunch we continued down coming across the small, very dark Silky Ringlet Erebia gorge, often resting on the bare rocks of the track. At a grassy area with much Golden Hawk's-beard Crepis aurea, several Asian Fritillaries Euphydryas intermedia were feeding.

We took the chair lift back down to a lower level but before catching the cable car down we spent an hour searching the pine woodlands and road margins. Here we came across Pinnate-leaved Ragwort Jacobaea abrotanifolia just coming into flower, a single stunning Bladder Gentian Gentiana utriculosa and the only short-spurred Fragrant Orchid Gymnadenia odoratissima of the trip. Now in the warm sunshine many insects were evident including the moths Yellow Banded Psodos quadrifaria and Silver-barred Sable Pyrausta cingulata.

We took the 5pm cable car back down the hill and were soon back at the hotel after a very successful flower-filled day and no rain!

Day 4

Friday 1st July

Mostnica Gorge

Another sunny and warm day, we set off after breakfast to the car park above Stara Fužina, just a short distance away. The first part of the walk up the gorge included many labelled plants which was useful, although in several cases the labelled species seemed to have disappeared. Both Warted Spindle Euonymus verrucosus and Rock Buckthorn Rhamnus saxatilis were noted along this part. At an open area with a small spring and wet rocks a splendid dragonfly Sombre Goldenring Cordulegaster bidentata permitted excellent views. At the first bridge we came across a very confusing plant, the lack of flowers making it difficult to identify; ultimately it proved to be Barvarian Bastard Toadflax Thesium bavarum.

Further up the gorge past the entrance gate large Brown Trout Salmo trutta could be seen in the crystal-clear water and several Arran Brown Erebia ligea settled on the vegetation beside the water. In the shadier part of the gorge were many ferns such as Hart's-tongue Fern Asplenium scolopendrium, Hard-fern Blechnum spicant and Beech Fern Phegopteris connectilis. We continued on to an open meadow for our lunch, which apart from a splendid view of the mountains, proved to be very productive for butterflies. The numerous flowers of Scabiosa triandra attracted a brilliant-orange Scarce Copper Lycaena virgaureae as well as several Essex Skippers Thymelicus lineola. On bare dusty ground beside the café numerous butterflies were searching for minerals, including many Silver-washed Fritillary Argynnis paphia, High Brown Fritillary Fabriciana adippe, Chalkhill Blue Polyommatus coridon and a couple of Small Blue Cupido minimus.

After lunch we set off back down, but not before a perfect Purple Emperor Apatura iris performed for us at the roadside, resting on the nearby foliage and even coming down to the road-verge. We took the road back down to Stara Fužina coming across several interesting plants including Creeping Bellflower Campanula rapunculoides and especially Cross Gentian Gentiana cruciata.

Day 5

Saturday 2nd July

Vrsic Pass

After a day in the relative lowlands it was time to get back to altitude so after breakfast, we gathered at 8.30am and set off for the Vrsic Pass on the northern side of the Triglav massif. After passing through Bled and up the motorway, we turned off at Kranjska Gora and started to wind up the numerous switchbacks to the pass. It being a weekend, parking at the top was a real headache but eventually we were all set to explore the pass at a little over 1600 metres. The grassy areas close to the road produced Alpine Lovage Ligusticum mutellina many Bladder Gentian Gentiana utriculosa and a single Gentiana pumila. Best of all just here, was a superb patch of Crimped Bellflower Favratia zysyii in full flower growing on a large boulder.

We took a path ascending gently up the hill finding Cotoneaster tomentosus, Round-leaved Wintergreen Pyrola rotundifolia and Mountain Valerian Valeriana montana beside the path. At a more open area where the limestone substrate was exposed Candy Carrot Athamanta cretensis was frequent and on a scree slope we found Slovenian Mouse-ear Cerastium subtriflorum and Alpine Toadflax Linaria alpina.

From here we walked down a little lower to a grassy area amongst the pines where we set out our picnic. Once sufficient had been consumed we took a short walk in the surrounding meadow where we came across a small group of Bird's-eye Primrose Primula farinosa and a few plants of Squarrose Knapweed Centaurea triumfettii. In a scrubby area beside the path we found Snowy Wood-rush Luzula nivea and Dark Columbine Aquilegia atrata while back in the open meadow we saw Chequered Skipper Carterocephalus palaemon and Bright-eyed Ringlet Erebia oeme.

Our next stop was just a little lower down, a beautiful alpine meadow full of flowers and butterflies including a splendid Red Helleborine Cephalanthera rubra, numerous Common Twayblade Neottia ovata and Fragrant Orchids Gymnadenia conopsea and, most exciting, a few plants of One-leaved Bog Orchid Malaxis monophyllos. Perhaps the most special butterfly was Clouded Apollo Parnassius mnemosyne, but equally welcome was Large Copper Lycaena dispar. Amongst the tall grasses Long-winged Mountain Grasshopper Miramella irena proved to be frequent and a bit further down the path were several very impressive plants of Martagon Lily Lilium martagon.

With time rapidly running out we had to leave these wonderful mountain habitats and set off back to Ribcev Laz and the hotel.

Day 6 Sunday 3rd July

Vrata Valley and Goreljek Barje

Today we again made our way to the north of the Triglav National Park where we turned south at Mojstrana and up the Vrata Valley. From the car park we made our way up the valley, in the warm sunshine insects were plentiful with Silver-studded Blue Plebejus argus, Swallowtail Papilio machaon, Alpine Heath Coenonympha gardetta and Large Grizzled Skipper Pyrgus alveus all noted in the first few hundred yards. Along the edge of the path were colourful patches of Alpine Sowbread Cyclamen purpurascens, Dianthus sternbergii, Large-flowered Selfheal Prunella grandiflora Perennial Yellow-woundwort Stachys recta and Southern Greenweed Genista radiata. Several impressive Coleoptera were found including Bee Beetle Trichius fasciatus and the impressive black Capricorn Beetle Cerambyx scopolii.

Continuing further up the valley, open sunny areas were decorated by the bright yellow asteracids Tolpis staticifolia and more-difficult-to-identify Smooth Hawkweed Pilosella piloselloides. Along the track were several Alpine Laburnum Laburnum alpinum and a nice example of Rhamnus fallax in fruit. In more shaded area we found Einsele's Columbine Aquilegia einseleana, Homogyne sylvestris and more One-leaved Bog-orchids.

We arrived back at the minibuses in time for our picnic lunch before loading up and heading down the valley for a brief stop at the impressive Pericnik Waterfall. Along the stream beside the road we noted Goat's-beard Spiraea Aruncus dioicus and a single spike of Lesser Butterfly-orchid Platanthera bifolia. The trees around the bus and the bus itself seemed to be very attractive to the impressive longhorn beetle Monochamus sartor and a male Purple Emperor rested on nearby foliage.

With plenty of time still, we decided to call in at Goreljek on the way back to Ribcev Laz, a peat-bog surrounded by conifer woodland at about 1250 metres asl, offering a rather different habitat than we had so far experienced in Slovenia. In the woods immediately next to the parking spot we found One-flowered Wintergreen Moneses uniflora, an iconic species of this habitat. We set off around the perimeter path, mostly within the forest, but with some open meadows to explore. In one of these we came across Bearded Bellflower Campanula barbata, Rampion Bellflower Campanula rapunculus, Mountain Arnica Arnica montana and the rampion Phyteuma persicifolium. In more shady areas was White Wood-rush Luzula luzuloides and an adjacent hay meadow produced Ragged Robin Silene flos-cuculi, Smooth Crosswort Cruciata glabra and Yellow Rattle Rhinanthus minor. Of the birds seen or heard here, several Red Crossbills permitted views to a few of us, but a Bulfinch was more elusive. Some of us were lucky enough to see a Red Squirrel hurrying through the canopy.

From Goreljek we wound our way down the mountain, through much traditional farmland, near Stara Fužina stopping to see some of the numerous hay-drying racks which is such a feature of the area, although now mostly unused.

Day 7

Monday 4th July

Mangart Saddle

Our final full day and it was to be a long one, crossing over into Italy and then back into Slovenia before climbing the narrow, windy road to the Mangart Saddle. After an early breakfast we were on our way before 8.30am, taking the same route and the previous two days but at Kranjska Gora heading straight on to the Italian border. We passed Tarvisio and Cave del Predil before re-entering Slovenia over the Predil Pass (1156 metres asl). A little further on we passed the fallen Lion monument to the 19th-century soldier Captain Johann Hermann von Hermannsdorf who was killed here during the Battle of Tarvis. Turning left we passed the entry barrier and climbed above the tree-line, towards the Mangart Saddle (ca. 2000 metres).

After dropping everybody off and then finding a parking space, not easy up here, we all set off up the road beyond the upper barrier. Or rather we didn't because there was so much to see right there! Within the first few meters along the road cutting we found the aptly named Spiniest Thistle Cirsium spinosissimum, bright red racemes of Alpine Sainfoin Hedysarum hedysaroides, Oxytropis neglecta, Leafless-stemmed Speedwell Veronica aphylla and the beautiful flowers of Rock Speedwell Veronica fruticans. The surrounding grassland was dotted with the intense blue of Gentiana pumila, bright yellow Alpine Avens Geum montanum and Golden Cinquefoil Potentilla aurea and Small-white Orchid Pseudorchis albida. On more rocky areas we came across Oneflower Fleabane Erigeron uniflorus, Horned Rampion Phyteuma scheuchzeri, Bear's-ear Primrose or Auricula Primula auricula (well past flowering), Dark Stonecrop Sedum atratum and a profusion of saxifrages. Commonest here was Encrusted Saxifrage Saxifraga crustata and Live-long Saxifrage Saxifraga paniculata, both in full flower, with One-flowered Cushion Saxifrage Saxifraga burserana and Awl-leaved Saxifrage Saxifraga tenella much less frequent, the former only in fruit.

Further up the road patches of Large-flowered Leopardsbane Doronicum grandiflorum were conspicuous while Alpine Colts-foot Homogyne alpina was much harder to spot amongst the grass. Another very nice Asteraceae to find was Dwarf Saussurea Saussurea pygmaea and nearby a stunning small group of Snowdon Lily Gagea serotina was discovered and a superb patch of Pink Cinquefoil Potentilla nitida in full flower.

Roadside rocks produced prostrate plants of Creeping Sandwort Moebria ciliata, Net-leaved Willow Salix reticulata, the brilliant pink flowers of Wood Pink Dianthus sylvestris and a larger version of the Alpine Catchfly seen at many other sites, Heliosperma alpestre. Approaching the highest point, we found a small colony of Long-flowered Primrose Primula halleri, a very well named primrose with an exceptionally elongated calyx tube.

We arrived at the Italian border where the cliff falls away dramatically and the views across Italy to Austria are truly spectacular, and possibly even better looking south into Slovenia with the Julian Alps stretched out before us. Here we stopped for our picnic lunch, but there was still time to look at the Alpine Butterwort Pinguicula alpina and Fringed Sandwort Arenaria ciliata in the short grassland of our high-altitude lunch spot.

After lunch some of us headed up the slope to search for one of the more special plants to be found here. On an exposed and slightly precarious crag the King Of The Alps Eritrichium nanum was still flowering, its bright blue flowers and hairy leaves hugging the rock closely. As we photographed this tiny high-alpine plant, a large family of White-winged Snowfinch and a couple of Alpine Accentor gave close views while Alpine Choughs noisily circled nearby.

Walking back across the grassland to the road we came across large swathes of the bright mauve-and-yellow Alpine Aster Aster alpinus and a large mixed colony of Red Vanilla Orchid Gymnadenia miniata and Dark Vanilla Orchid Gymnadenia rbellicani.

We made our way back down the road and took a small path to the café, near here was a patch of the attractive Alpine Gypsophila Gypsophila repens and a large clump of Southern Squinancywort Asperula aristata. From here we re-joined the minibuses, taking in a small colony of Bluish Paederota Paederota bonarota before loading up.

There was just one more stop to make, a little further down the hill we pulled in to see the peculiar and, in the Julian Alps at least, rare Devil's Claw Physoplexis comosa, looking splendid in full flower on its shady cliff habitat.

It had been a long but very satisfying day, with perfect weather and some of the best plants of the trip. We wound our way back down the hill, into Italy and back into Slovenia, soon we were on the motorway heading back to Ribcev Laz.

Day 8

Tuesday 5th July

Lake Bohinj to Ljubljana airport

Our British Airways flight was too early to allow time for any botanising this morning so after a leisurely breakfast we loaded up and set off from the hotel to Ljubljana Airport. Once the minibuses were returned, all went smoothly through this small and relaxed airport and soon enough we were on our way to Heathrow.
